Crippled America: How To Make America Great Again

Synopsis

Look at the state of the world right now. It's a terrible mess, and that's putting it mildly. There has never been a more dangerous time. The politicians and special interests in Washington, DC, are directly responsible for the mess we are in. So why should we continue listening to them? It's time to bring America back to its rightful owners—the American people. I'm not going to play the same game politicians have been playing for decades—all talk, no action, while special interests and lobbyists dictate our laws. I am shaking up the establishment on both sides of the political aisle because I can't be bought. I want to bring America back, to make it great and prosperous again, and to be sure we are respected by our allies and feared by our adversaries. It's time for action. Americans are fed up with politics as usual. And they should be! In this book, I outline my vision to make America great again, including: how to fix our failing economy; how to reform health care so it is more efficient, cost-effective, and doesn't alienate both doctors and patients; how to rebuild our military and start winning wars—instead of watching our enemies take over—while keeping our promises to our great veterans; how to ensure that our education system offers the resources that allow our students to compete internationally, so tomorrow's jobseekers have the tools they need to succeed; and how to immediately bring jobs back to America by closing our doors to illegal immigrants, and pressuring businesses to produce their goods at home. This book is my blueprint for how to Make America Great Again. It's not hard. We just need someone with the courage to say what needs to be said. We won't find that in Washington, DC.

Now I've got to be honest. This is my first review of any product online, and my first time reading any book, let alone a political book since I graduated high school three years ago. I hate books, and I hate politics. But I owed myself, because I love Trump. I never thought in a million years someone would open my eyes to the world of politics, and make me actually understand what is actually happening to our country. I was completely blind to the fact that our country is in such dire shape prior to Trump's announcement that he is running for president, and oh he is running. Since his announcement, I have been following his every move. Everyday I get online and search for anything, and everything Trump. Things such as videos of him speaking on the campaign trail, policy proposals on the VA, tax plans, and of course the debates. Oh how I love to watch him put politicians, and more recently moderators in their place, yes I'm talking to you MSNBC. You can't stump the Trump, he is on a whole other level when it comes to these talking heads. He can't be bought, if you insult him he will K.O. you, and the liberal media can't stand him. There's a famous quote by Mahatma Gandhi "First they ignore you, then they laugh at you, then they fight you, then you win." This pretty much sums up the Media vs. Trump scenario we have been seeing for the past four months. But I digress. Donald Trump has charged the public with a vast amount of anger and, disgust with how our government is run. We have been taken advantage of by the incapable politicians in Washington long enough, and I believe a vast amount of people are just fed up.

Trump's blueprint for America is certainly on the right track and there are specifics laid out here. America is facing some very serious problems. We need a tough leader who isn't a puppet for the special interest groups. Trump is using donors, as well as his own money to fund his campaign. Of course this does not sit well with the lobbyists and special interest groups looking to own the next President. The Washington Times reports the total debt stood at $10.6 trillion when the president came into office and will hit $20 trillion as his term ends in 2017. And that number is going to go higher since the caps on spending, known as "sequestration," have been abandoned. So, with CLOSE to 20 trillion dollars in debt, it seems wise to have a strong business leader making the tough financial decisions for America. His views on trade are also right on the mark. America has made some really bad deals and Trump seems to know how to reverse that trend. Many are trying to label him a racist who is anti Muslim and anti Latino. Really? He wants to build a wall so people can come in legally.

Heroin is a big problem in this country and it's flowing across the border taking the lives of countless Americans. Because of our huge debt, we cannot afford to keep letting everyone in. We can't pay for them and there's just not enough jobs. And when some commit crimes and kill innocent Americans (Google the stats) we deport them, only for them to return and do it again. We are going broke folks, we need to get our house in order and charity should begin at home! Since when is securing our borders racism? Those who think so should try crossing into Mexico illegally and see where that gets you. Securing our borders is protecting our lives and our economy. Our national security is at risk.
